APPG for the Pakistani Minorities Inquiry

ABDUCTIONS, FORCED CONVERSIONS, AND FORCED MARRIAGES OF RELIGIOUS MINORITY WOMEN AND GIRLS IN PAKISTAN

The APPG will be launching its Inquiry report on forced conversions and forced marriages on Thursday 25 November at 12:00 pm, in the British Parliament. Unfortunately, due to Covid restrictions in the Parliament, the launch will be pre-recorded. It will include contributions by the APPG members, the Experts Panel members, representatives from Pakistan and the British Foreign and Commonwealth Office Minister, Lord Ahmad.

Please follow the launch on this link:

Meeting ID: 814 9835 9956

Passcode: 370145

The APPG would like to thank all those who sent in their written submissions and appeared as witnesses.

The report is dedicated to all religious minority victims and survivors of abductions, forcible conversions and forcible marriages in Pakistan – failed by the law and the system that empowers the perpetrators.

It is also dedicated to late great Mr I A Rehman, a champion of the marginalised communities of Pakistan over many decades, former Chairman of the Human Rights Commission of Pakistan, and a member of Experts Panel of the APPG for Pakistani Minorities Inquiry.

The copies of the Inquiry report will be available after the launch, on the APPG for FoRB website: <https://appgfreedomofreligionorbelief.org/>
